

Cups A Play by Joni Sheram

*"Cups" will touch the hearts of audiences everywhere.
It's funny, poignant and has universal appeal - regardless of age or gender.*

Nicky Marone -Author of "What's Stopping You?"
(translated into 11 languages)

*"Cups" was the "hit" of our recent Women's Theater Festival here at The MAT.
Audiences loved this show!"*

Birgitta DePree - Director, Manitou Art Theater

Joni Sheram's "Cups" is an entertaining one-woman play about the lives of women
- told through the contours and curves of ... bras!

Who knew of memories secreted away in the cups of
... a training bra ... a strapless
... a bra burned in the 60's
... nursing bras ... and more.

Intimate details are shared in a series of delightful and moving tales that mirror changes in society while interweaving a very personal journey.

You'll laugh and cry and leave smiling.

*"The play is funny and poignant,
I believe every woman - and even men - will be able to relate to it."*

Betty Brown -Actress

Cups

A Play by Joni Sheram

Joni Sheram is an actress, playwright, and coach. She has written for the stage, television and the big screen. While a high school teacher, Joni performed in hundreds of shows throughout the Pikes Peak region as part of murder mystery theater. As a trainer with the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation, Joni traveled the country for their "Community of Caring" program. Joni has traveled around the world and is involved with the "Earthseeds Project" - promoting sustainability and environmental education.

"Cups" one of the most original and innovative plays I've ever seen. An "uplifting" experience. Can't wait to see it on Broadway!
